MESSAGE FROM THE DESK OF THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

The effects of globalization have driven incredible revolutions within the learning organization. The alteration is so forceful that the educational system has to keep itself abreast with the most recent developments. The existing dilemma in education has led to globalization of the education sector. To congregate world-class competencies in our potential students, we at Pioneer have launched exclusive and distinctive programs through extracurricular activities.

The curricular activities offered by the Institute facilitate the students to an overall personality transformation, training them to be better managers, and better individual. The meticulous syllabuses not only instill in them, an obsession for information but also attempt to prepare them how to submit the application to real-life situations. The programs positions stress on well-formed personality improvement of the students and also in inculcating the standards of collaboration and respectability in them.

Web based learning system, fast growing use of internet, importance of video conferencing in learning and research are considered these days as a common practice in the myriad developing fields around the world. The aim is to impart strong professionalism in thinking and performance. This is an indication of our accomplishments and we are on our way to perfection.

MESSAGE BY PROF. ISHA JAIN

In order to recognize the importance of providing educational activities that enrich and broaden student experiences as an integral part of the curriculum as well as beyond the normal academic day, the Institutional Committee supports the development of co-curricular and extracurricular programs in accordance with the policies established. Co-curricular programs are defined as those activities that enhance and enrich the regular curriculum during the normal days. Extracurricular programs are defined as those activities that broaden the educational experience which usually take place beyond the normal Institute day. Students who desire to participate or be the Volunteer shall do so with the understanding that it is a privilege for them to be the member a team.

All students are invited to participate and the activities are designed to meet the needs of and to stimulate interests expressed by students and should cover a broad range of abilities. There are equal opportunities for all students to participate in such programs. Recognizing the positive aspects of co-curricular programs that enrich and enhance the regular elementary Institute program, the Institute Committee supports the development of such activities in all areas of the approved curriculum.

Conventional cultural activities, such as band and art class, benefit students by bolstering their general commitment to socio-educational goals, such as Institute attendance. In the case of elite Institute admissions, on the other hand, exposure to high-status cultural forms would appear to play a strong role, though not in ways that is easily transmitted to students through Institutes.

Mentors Meeting

The Institute organized “Mentor Mentee Meet” on 10/01/2019, Thursday at 12:45 pm. The objective of this meet was to provide a common platform to the students to have an open interaction with the alumni who are working in various companies at good positions. The meet started with the address by the Principal Dr. CA P. K. Jain and the Director Dr. Mona Tawar, Dr. Isha Jain and all the invited mentors. Ms. Kumkum Sinha, Ms. Simnalika Kushwaha welcomed the mentors and mentees and elaborated the significance of “mentor-mentee” relationship in career. Further, Dr. CA Prashant Jain explained the objective of this meet to the students and highlighted the immediate and long-term benefits which mentees can get if they utilize this platform to the maximum. The mentors one by one gave their introduction and gave brief insights on the Rules And Regulations, Anti Ragging Cell, Women Empowerment Cell, Grievance Cell, Institute Website and above all the new academic session, the internal scheme along with the semester end examination.

Various activities were conducted to understand the level of capabilities a mentee possesses to excel in the role of a manager. Based on the mentees’ responses the mentors gave their inputs and gave some tips to the mentees on how they can cultivate their overall competencies. The students also raised enquiries and happenings related to their various activities.

Overall the session was very interactive. The mentors educated the mentees with valuable direction, helping them to prepare for the corporate exposure.

Seminar on Reason behind International Trade

An International trade is the exchange of capital, goods, and services through international borders or territories, allowing developing markets for both goods and services that otherwise may not have been accessible to us.

Seminar on Reason behind International Trade conducted by Dr. Tanu Srivastava on 12/01/2019, Saturday at 09:30 AM attended by BBA IVth semester students.

Dr. Tanu gave insight on current scenario of international trade, she said the market contains better competition and therefore more competitive prices, which brings a cheaper product home to the consumer. International trade is the exchange of goods and services between countries. Such trade gives rise to a world economy, in which prices, or supply and demand, affect and are affected by global events.

She continued and gave reasons behind international trade by stating that, Trading globally gives consumers and countries the opportunity get exposed to goods and services not available in their own countries. Almost all kinds of product can be found on the international market: food, clothes, spare parts, oil, jewelry, wine, stocks, currencies, and water. Services are also traded: tourism, banking, consulting and transportation.

Dr. Tanu covered facts and reasons for international trade relating to Reduced dependence on local market, increased chances of success and efficiency, economic advantage etc.

The seminar was interactive and students asked various questions related to the topic. Dr. Tanu Srivastava answered all there queries and satisfied their doubts.

Kite Flying Festival(Makar Sankranti)

The Institute celebrated auspicious Festival of Kite Flying (Makar Sankranti) on 14/01/2019 conducted by Ms. Simnalika Kushwaha, as Coordinator. Students had a gala time by watching colorful kites.

Kite flying during Makar Sankranti or Uttarayan is an important part of the celebrations. One of the main attractions of the kite festival is the Kite- flying competition. All students and faculty members collected on the ground, flying their own kites while trying to bring down or cut the other person's kite. Manjha, the string controlled the kite, which was colored and covered with powdered glass, then dried. This sharp string helped to cut the other kites of others. Day of such celebration helped us forget all about our busy lives and hardships they face on a daily basis. Kite Festival day was filled with happiness and laughter.

Makar Sankranti, or Maghi, is a festival day in the Hindu calendar, dedicated to the deity Sun. It is observed each year in January.

Ms. Simnalika shared some important fact and history about this festival Makar Sankranti. She said it is one of the few ancient Indian festivals that has been observed according to solar cycles, while most festivals are set by the lunar cycle of the lunisolar Hindu calendar.

Everyone relished together and made a day memorable.

Seminar on Employability Skill:

Employability skills are a term for a set of highly desirable, transferable skills that turn one to a very attractive candidate or employee. It is a set of skills employers want from a prospective employee.

The Institute organized one day seminar on Employability Skill on 15\01\2019, Tuesday at 12:45 pm to discuss the employability skills essential by today's establishments conducted by Ms. Kumkum Sinha. All students from various departments participated in this seminar.

Ms. Kumkum Sinha started the seminar by defining employability Skills as, the transferable skills needed by an individual to make them 'employable'. Along with respectable practical understanding and subject knowledge, employers often outline a set of skills that they want from an employee. Ms. Kumkum briefly explains these skills are what they believe will equip the employee to carry out their role to the best of their ability. Employability depends on knowledge, skills and attitudes, how to use those assets, and how to present them to employers.

Ms. Kumkum explained the soft skills needed by the industry and shared expectation of corporate from the employees and she emphasized on Interpersonal Skills, Communication Skills, Critical Thinking Skills, Personal Development, Performance Skills and Management Skills.

Ms. Kumkum gave detailed insight on the topic.

The seminar also witnessed excellent interaction by Dr. CA Prashant Jain on effective communication, corporate expectations, career planning and goal setting, understanding self, leadership, decision making skills, time management.

In the next half of the seminar Dr. Isha Jain shared case studies on how the companies and the organizations are working and what they are looking for in the candidates for hiring. Students spent above Four hours together acquiring valuable knowledge and experience from the speakers. Such seminar will help students in career development. The feedback of the overall session was extremely positive.

Republic Day Celebration

Republic Day in India is celebrated every year with great pride on 26th January to honor the Constitution of India as it came into force on the same day in the year 1950.

The 70th Republic Day of India was celebrated with gaiety and patriotic fervor at The Institute amidst the foggy morning of 26th January, 2019. The ceremony took place in the presence of Principal, Director, Faculty, Staff Members and Students.

The ceremony commenced with the unfurling of the National Flag by the honorable Principle and Director. This was accompanied by the rendition of National Anthem led by the Institute's Cultural Club. The programme moved forward with an incredible display of parade and wonderful patriotic songs performed by students. The lively performances by the students packed everyone with great liveliness and passion. The genuine performances of patriotic songs provoked feelings of love and brotherhood among all.

The Director Dr. Mona Tawar addressed the gathering and highlighted the achievements of the Institute and underscored the steps the Institute has taken to ensure an overall development of its students and took pride in mentioning that the Institute is well ahead of the academic standards.

Dr. Isha Jain emphasized upon the quality education which would help in the development of the city and the country at large. She briefly discussed the issues that the nation is currently facing and urged everyone to unite. The hour long ceremony culminated with the release of tri-colored balloons.

A week before the day of celebration, students enjoyed the time of preparation they spend in the Institute. They were over excited in preparing themselves for the performances and spent more than half-a-day in Institute practicing for march-past, speech, dance, sports, cultural activities and more.

At the end of program everybody sang national anthem. Sweets were distributed among students.

Mentor Meeting

A mentor is a person who has professional and life experience and who voluntarily agrees to help a mentee develop skills, competencies, or goals. Put another way, a mentor is an advisor and role model who is willing to invest in the mentee's personal growth and professional development.

The primary purpose of the mentoring relationship is to help to develop the mentor. Therefore, the mentor should be pro-active and help to create an agenda and a relationship that reflects the types of goals he/she would like to achieve. Mentors are offering their valuable time to their mentees. It is the mentor's responsibility to make the most of that time.

The Institute organized "Mentor Mentee Meet" On 19/01/2019 Saturday at 12:45 pm. under the guidance of Ms. Simnalika and attended by majority of students.

Agenda for meeting is the improvement of the overall academic quality. The students will be greatly benefitted by continuous expert guidance. Direct academic issues e.g. selection of electives can be easily communicated to the student.

Ms. Simnalika, presented with many ideas that can be implemented for the welfare of students, she talked about empowering the Anti-ragging committee, and many Responsibilities: The mentor should perform the following functions:

- Continuously monitor, counsel, guide and motivate the students in all academic matters.
- Advise students regarding choice of electives papers, project, summer training etc.
- Advise students in their career development/professional guidance.
- Maintain a detail progressive record of the student.

Institute's academic committee will discuss mentoring related issues at least twice in a semester during its meetings and revise/upgrade the system if necessary.

It was jointly decided by the Director and Mentors on different Type of Mentoring

- Professional Guidance - regarding professional goals, selection of career, higher education.
- Career advancement - regarding self-employment opportunities, entrepreneurship development, morale, honesty and integrity required for career growth.
- Course work specific - regarding attendance and performance in present semester and overall performance in the previous semester.

- Lab specific - regarding Do's and Don'ts in the lab.

Overall the session was very interactive. The mentors educated the mentees with very useful guidance which will help them to prepare for the ultimate corporate exposure.

Sustainability in Indian Business

Sustainability is now seen as a key issue in business. In the future, only companies that make sustainability a goal will achieve competitive advantage.

Seminar on Sustainability in Indian Business held on 21/01/2019 at the Institute conducted by Dr. Tanu Srivastava for BBA IVth semester students. She thoroughly explained many aspects and future dimension about sustainability.

Dr. Tanu Srivastava said, many companies continue to struggle to incorporate sustainability into their strategy, governance, and management structures and focuses on how sustainability is implemented inside companies with regard to approach, governance, and management. Businesses can “influence” sustainability beyond their own company boundaries by acting to promote policy frameworks that strengthen the relationship between commercial success and the achievement of a just and sustainable world.

Speaker introduced to three way concept to achieve sustainability: Act, Enable and Influence. Deploy strategic foresight processes and future method and line up incentives with sustainability performance. Develop coalitions to advance progress on major sustainability challenges, Focus Company reporting on value creation and performance improvement, Communicate internally and externally about company ethics, vision, and values.

The world is changing, with massive implications for business strategy and value creation. Whether it is new energy systems, disruptive technologies, new business models, changing demographics, hyper-transparency, or rising geopolitical uncertainty, the operating context for Indian businesses is evolving.

Based on the analysis and key findings of the national, regional and global trends, Dr. Tanu Srivastava, identified few important areas and issues that businesses are pursuing, while carrying out long term effective operations, businesses are making stable progress on implanting sustainability practices into their overall processes and operations.

Key fundamentals introduced by the speaker on sustainability are a good business and is not just change in the process but change in mindset. Sustainability is a good model for social value creation. Innovation is at the heart of sustainability and initiatives taken by the Indian businesses.

After the session Dr. Tanu Srivastava answered many questions asked by students. In the end, Dr. Mona Tawar, Director, presented vote of thanks.

Female Hygiene

Feminine hygiene is a general term used to describe personal care products used by women during menstruation.

An awareness session was conducted on 23/02/2019 at the institute by Dr. Neha Lakhotia and attended by the girls student, in which all associated topics related to female hygiene were explained to students, like what is menstruation, calculation of the period, physical problems faced by girls during their periods and ways to deal with it, maintaining personal hygiene during this period and importance of maintaining hygiene, avoiding the traditional methods of using dirty cloths and promoting use of sanitary napkins, etc. Traditional myths and misconceptions in rural areas related to menstruation were discussed by Dr. Lakhotia. FAQs by the girls related to the topic were answered by the facilitator.

Dr. Neha explained that, one aspect of women empowerment is to explicitly talk about and manage traits exclusive to women and their physiology. Menstrual hygiene is one such aspect. It seems to be a familiar topic but is actually one of the most mismanaged phenomena in India.

To have hygienic menstruation is basic to the dignity and well-being of women. It is associated with gender equality as well as basic human rights. Due to poor hygiene awareness and facilities, girls avoid going to schools, meetings, or to other important events of their lives. This is one of the reasons that they are supposed to be less effective employees when compared to their counterparts.

Dr. Neha talked about the problems like: girls miss important competitions, examinations, and other appointments only because they are menstruating. Another common belief is that going past a sanitary napkin, used and thrown by others, can cause serious harm. These myths and misconceptions can actually make women feel inferior because of their womanhood.

She adds problems faced by urban and rural women like in rural areas there are lack of toilets in schools head on, and we are witnessing a change in availability and habit pattern at the level of community. Still a long road to tread, but the signs are good. Each and every school need to have water, hygiene and sanitation at proper place.

All the students found this session very informative. And Dr. Neha Lakhotia concluded the session.

E-Ship Talk

Entrepreneurship has been described as the "capacity and willingness to develop, organize and manage a business venture along with any of its risks in order to make a profit.

Ms. Simnalika Khuswaha guided through the concept of Entrepreneurship and Eship talks on 23/02/2019 at 12:45 pm In front of all the students of the Institute. She talked about different aspects of entrepreneurship and answered many in depth questions regarding the concept of entrepreneurship. Ms.Simnalika stated that Entrepreneur is an entity which has the ability to find and act upon opportunities to translate inventions or technologies into products and services: "The entrepreneur is able to recognize the commercial potential of the invention and organize the capital, talent, and other resources that turn an invention into a commercially viable innovation.

Ms.Simnalika introduced the types of entrepreneurs and differentiated among them with practical examples from current market, types she described are: Ethnic, Institutional, Cultural, Feminist, Social, Nascent, Project-based, Millennial.

Entrepreneurs create something new; something different they change or transmute values. Regardless of the firm size, big or small, they can partake in entrepreneurship opportunities. The opportunity to become an entrepreneur requires four criteria. First, there must be opportunities or situations to recombine resources to generate profit. Second, entrepreneurship requires differences between people, such as preferential access to certain individuals or the ability to recognize information about opportunities. Third, taking on risk is a necessity. Fourth, the entrepreneurial process requires the organization of people and resources. Majority of students liked the concept and inspired by the practical case studies discussed by her.

Dr. CA P.K. Jain, Principal talked about the utilization of entrepreneurial opportunities, it includes developing a business plan and hiring the human resources, acquiring financial and material resources, providing leadership.

Students found it very useful and multi-dimensional approach and if considered it will surely help students in their future prospects.

E-Ship Talk ended with positive responses from all students. Vote of thanks given by Ms. Sheetal Gautam.
